

Structura UK Limited's New Headquarters

At the beginning of 2004 Structura UK moved into their new modern two storey purpose built offices and factory unit situated in Chessington, Surrey.

To coincide with the move Structura UK has invested in new machinery, plant and equipment to maintain its competitive manufacturing edge and also devoted resources to upgrade its IT, Management Tools and CAD Design stations.

The move is a vindication in our belief in the future of the company to be more efficient in its controlled growth produce products of the highest quality and technical excellence for our existing and new clients and further more to provide our highly skilled workforce with the best possible working environment.

We look forward to being of service to you in the near future.
